AUCTION INFORMATION

Welcome to the 39th annual UUCC auction. In this catalog you'll find description of the many fabulous items being offered this year, thanks to the hard work of our volunteers and the generosity of our donors. There are many new, one of a kind, and never before offered, items to complement those which are back by popular demand. The auction is an exciting event in its own right, so plan to attend for a fun evening where you'll find:

- Free child care provided by reliable UU babysitters (advance registration for child care is required)
- Light dinner fare is included in the registration fee
- Cash bar – including wine, beer, soft drinks and water.
- Free appetizers, coffee and tea.
- Fabulous Entertainment: Come early and enjoy music by the Chalice Messengers, 4 – 5 pm
- Wonderful volunteers who make the entire event as efficient, enjoyable, and trouble free as humanly possible.

We look forward to seeing you on November 11th! Don't forget your auction catalog!

There are two parts to the auction: a Vocal auction and a Silent auction. Vocal auction items are listed first in this catalog, followed by the Silent auction items. Silent auction items are grouped into these categories:

- Tangibles. The range of items available is so diverse as to defy description
- Services that draw upon the talents of our congregation
- Gift Certificates to local establishments. Provided by congregation members or by the businesses themselves.
- Food. Unique offerings by members of the congregation, many of which have a mighty reputation so be prepared for aggressive bidding.
- Fixed Price. All you have to do is put your name on the list. Some events are space limited so be sure to visit this part of the auction early. The Fixed Price category includes movies and many family oriented, modest price, events.

It is highly recommended that you review this catalog and prepare your bidding strategy before auction night. The action during the Vocal auction will be fast and furious. To assist you in finding items and events that you will be interested in, quick reference guides have been prepared and appear before the detailed item descriptions.

SPONSORS: Some of the gift certificates and some services for the auction were donated by local establishments. We thank them and encourage you to show your thanks through your patronage.

SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE SILENT AUCTION (NEW INSTRUCTIONS FOR 2017)

“SILENT AUCTION MULTIPLES”. Some silent auction items can have more than one buyer. To satisfy the most bidders and provide a consistent price for all buyers, items will be awarded to bidders in descending order of bid amount until the quantity is exhausted. The final price will be the mean (average) of the winning bids.

- Quantity: If you wish to purchase more than one of the item, place the quantity in parentheses next to your bid price.
- Average price: The final price may be modestly higher than some winning bids. You may elect to NOT pay the average price (and not receive the item) by placing a check mark under the NO column on the bid sheet.
- Duplicate bids: In the event of duplicate bids, priority is given to the first bidder.
- A sample bid sheet will be on display at the auction for your reference.

EVERYTHING HAS TO LEAVE THE BUILDING ON SATURDAY NIGHT!

Donors:

Before you leave, check all your donations and take away whatever didn't sell. Do not leave unsold items.

Buyers:

Check all your bids to see if you won. Post-it notes will be placed on the tables indicating the winning paddle number. DO NOT TAKE THE ITEM unless your paddle number is shown on the note. If you won, take it with you.

If you have any questions about bidding on Silent Auction Items, please ask the Silent Auction Coordinator, Randy Raymond.

Non-reimbursement and Tax Deductibility

Non-reimbursement: Occasionally we get requests to reimburse a Donor for an expense associated with an auction item. It is the UUCB Auction policy NOT to reimburse such expenses. However, these expenses may be tax deductible.

Tax Deductibility:

- a) The amount of the purchase price of an auction item that is deductible for federal income tax purposes is the excess, if any, of the item's purchase price over its Fair Market Value (FMV).

- b) In this catalog, UCC has provided potential purchasers of items with a good faith estimate of the FMV of each item. This estimate has no bearing for the donor or on the final auction price.
- c) For additional guidance on tax deductibility, buyers and donors may consult applicable IRS publications (available on-line) and/or consult an accountant.

WHAT HAPPENS AFTER THE AUCTION

- Buyers' statements will be available between services on the next two Sundays. They also will be available through the UCC office.
- Please pay the amount due as soon as possible. Lingering outstanding balances create extra work for your auction volunteers.
- Buyers should examine their statements immediately and bring any problems to the attention of the Auction Committee for adjustment. Auction Committee representatives will be in the lobby between services Nov 12 and Nov. 19 to accept payments, to answer questions about statements, and make any necessary adjustments. After that, you can contact them at auction@uucolumbia.net.
- Donors will receive statements approximately 1-2 weeks after the auction by e-mail listing who purchased their items. This statement will include buyers' contact information. Donors: PLEASE do not discard this e-mail - it is your link to your buyers.
- Unsold seats to events can be purchased after the auction on a first come basis. A list of events with available seats will be posted on the auction website approximately four weeks after the auction with purchase instructions.
- Postponements: If you're a donor, please make every effort to hold auction events on the scheduled date, postponing only when it is unavoidable. It can avoid problems if you provide rain/snow dates when submitting your donation, particularly for events to be held in wintertime. If you do have to reschedule, it is your responsibility to inform all buyers as soon as possible. Please try to reschedule on a date that most people are comfortable with. If you're a buyer, please understand that auction donors are members of your UCC community, and occasionally may have to reschedule an event due to extraordinary circumstances such as snowstorms and illnesses. They will make every effort to avoid changing event dates. If your event does get postponed and you're unable to make the new date, we are sorry that we cannot credit you for the item. You can often find a substitute to attend in your place - people often find that using the listserv or Facebook group can be helpful. If your event is postponed and you don't get follow-up from the donor(s), please reach out to them, and contact the Auction Committee at auction@uucolumbia.net if you can't reach the donor(s).
- Cancellations, Donor responsibilities: If your event must be cancelled altogether, you may want to try to provide a substitute experience. If an event must be cancelled and no substitute event is provided, contact your list of 'purchasers' and the Auction Committee at auction@uucolumbia.net as soon as possible to let them know.
- Cancellations, Buyer responsibilities: Once in a great while an event may have to be cancelled altogether - if so, your donors will try to make a creative effort to provide a substitute event. Please work with your donor to achieve a win-win experience for all. If you receive word that an event has to be cancelled, you can request a credit of your donation amount to be applied to the next upcoming Auction. You need to request the credit as soon as possible, and in any event at least seven days prior to the next Auction. To make the request, email the Auction Team at auction@uucolumbia.net.

Item #12 Home-brewed Beer for You!

Max. Buyers: 1

Home-brewers Barry and Karyn invite you to MarshBerg Brewery (our Towson basement) to learn the science of home-brewing beer. You pick the type of beer you want, then we'll all visit Maryland Homebrew (Columbia) for ingredients and supplies. We'll next meet in Towson to craft your beer, from mixing and steeping through pitching the yeast to start the fermentation process. Several weeks later you can visit us to bottle your beer or we'll bottle it and deliver it to you at UUCC. A batch makes 48 bottles. If there's a special event you'd like to mark, we'll help you design labels and six-pack holders for your brew.

Dates to be arranged with buyer. Though we're only offering this to one buyer, feel free to bring a friend or two!.

SILENT AUCTION

Item #100 American Beauty (Movies About Families #1) Max. Buyers: 22
1999, dir. Sam Mendes. Kevin Spacey and Annette Bening are the outwardly-comfortable suburban couple whose relationship is falling apart; Thora Birch shines as their sullen teenage daughter falling for her next door neighbor, the sweet, good-natured and disturbed son of a scary, homophobic autocrat. The film takes a tragic Lolita turn with the entry of the daughter's seemingly sexually sophisticated friend, Angela. American Beauty burst onto the scene with Oscars for Best Picture, Best Director, Best Actor, Best Screenplay, and Best Cinematography. Light snacks or appetizers will be served. Vegetarian options, but not vegan options will be offered. Alcoholic beverages will not be served.

Item #101 Dean Spanley (Movies About Families #2) Max. Buyers: 22
2008, New Zealand, dir. Toa Frasier; stars Jeremy Northam, Sam Neill, and Peter O'Toole. This intoxicating, quirky Edwardian comedy/drama is the best little movie you've never heard of. Northam stars as the beleaguered son of cadaverous, icy O'Toole, who's never finished grieving the loss of his other son in the Boer War, and the subsequent death of his wife. Enter Sam Neill, playing the most unusual part of his acting career. You'll never look at dessert wines, or the family dog, the same way again. Light snacks or appetizers will be served. Vegetarian options, but not vegan options will be offered. Alcoholic beverages will not be served.

Item #102 The Joy Luck Club (Movies About Families #3) Max. Buyers: 22
1993, USA and China, dir. Wayne Wang. Novel by Amy Tan; screenplay by Tan and Ronald Bass. Four apple-pie-American daughters (Rosalind Chao, Lauren Tom, Tamlyn Tomita and Ming-Na Wen), and their mainland-China-born mothers (Kieu Chinh, Tsai Chin, Lisa Lu and France Nuyen), weave an intricate web of conflict, trauma, love and friendship. This gorgeous, textured film is beloved by immigrants of all stripes, touching universal themes about the complexity of family and community that we can all relate to. The film won A USA National Board of Review Top Ten Film award in 1993. Light snacks or appetizers will be served. Vegetarian options, but not vegan options will be offered. Item #104 Hannah and Her Sisters (Movies About Families #5) Max. Buyers: 22
1987. Woody Allen wrote and directed this sharp portrayal of a dysfunctional family of adult children, who can't seem to keep their hands off each other's spouses and significant others. Dianne Wiest and Michael Caine, members of an incredible ensemble cast, won Oscars in supporting actor roles, as did Allen for the screenplay. Light snacks or appetizers will be served. Vegetarian options, but not vegan options will be offered. Alcoholic beverages will not be served.

Item #105 Autumn Sonata (Movies About Families #6) Max. Buyers: 22
1978, Sweden (subtitled), Ingmar Bergman; stars Ingrid Bergman and Liv Ullmann. This masterfully neurotic, harrowing, but paradoxically accessible film depicts the crushing aftermath of a professional concert pianist's aloofness from her daughters. Ingrid Bergman, dying of breast cancer during the filming, is laser-sharp in her final cinematic role as the self-involved mother; Ullmann, in a towering role, moves seamlessly from obsequious mouse to ferocious avenger. The film won a host of international awards, mostly for acting. Not to be missed (but bring your antidepressants). Light snacks or appetizers will be served. Vegetarian options, but not vegan options will be offered. Alcoholic beverages will not be served.

Item #106 Avalon (Movies About Families #7) Max. Buyers: 22
1990, dir. Barry Levinson. An atmospheric, nostalgic account of two generations of a Jewish immigrant family that settles in Baltimore early in the 20th Century. This film, the last in Levinson's "Baltimore Trilogy" (after Tin Men and Diner) garnered a host of nominations for its writing, directing, and acting. (Nine-year-old Elijah Wood, more than a decade before his star turn as Frodo Baggins in the mega-hit Lord of the Rings trilogy, steals scenes as the sweetly inquisitive son of Ann and Jules Kay [Elizabeth Perkins, Aidan Quinn].) Light snacks or appetizers will be served. Vegetarian options, but not vegan options will be offered. Alcoholic beverages will not be served.

Item #107 Embroidery Without Rules Gathering and Kit Max. Buyers: 6
Embroidery doesn't have to be planned or fussy. It doesn't have to be girly or floral. It doesn't have to be symmetrical, or make any sense at all. Come by for some snacks, some chit-chat, and some embroidery without rules! I am not an expert. I'm hosting this event because I'm excited about getting hoops in the hands of others who might also enjoy it, and I'm excited to meet other embroiderers, experienced and new! At this gathering, I'll provide snacks, inspiration, help with basics as needed, plus a kit for each participant to start a small, fresh, rules-free embroidery project. *Notes: 1 buyer = 1 kit; please bring your own scissors. Light snacks or appetizers will be served. Vegan options will be offered. Alcoholic beverages will not be served.

Item #184 Wine Cozy

Max. Buyers: 1

Give a hand-knit Christmas gift this year! This wine cozy was hand-knit (during a One World Coffee House even!) by me using a cotton/acrylic/metallic blend yarn. The metallic gives it a subtle green sparkle. I will include a bottle of wine from a local vineyard (TBD) but as the cozy fits most standard wine bottles, you can replace it with one of your choice. This item is reusable (good for the environment!) and machine washable (I recommend drying flat or over a wine bottle to reshape).

Item #316 Nanaimo Bars

Max. Buyers: 4

Back for yet another year! Nanaimo Bars are an ultra-rich, chocolatey and decadent Canadian Christmas tradition. At a date of your choosing, you'll receive approximately 2 1/2 dozen of these gorgeous tri-layered confections, to serve at your next party or just when you're in the mood to pamper yourself or your family. You can specify white chocolate for the topping instead of dark if you prefer (but why would you ever do that??) and ground almonds (traditional) or pecans to complete the chocolate-coconut-graham base. Nanaimo Bars require refrigeration to stay firm. They freeze well, if you can hold out that long. At least 1 week of lead time to prepare is requested. These keep well for up to a week in the refrigerator, and at least a month, covered tightly, in the freezer.

Delivery will be negotiated with the buyer.
